- California small businesses are limited to one ICEP reimbursement per program year (October 1, 2019 to December 31, 2020).
- The selections for the ICEP reimbursement awards are based on available funds and the qualifications of the applicants. An application submittal is no guarantee of an ICEP reimbursement award. ICEP reimbursements will be paid in full up to the awarded amount, unless the California small business does not fulfill its obligations with regard to participating in the approved program or submitting required receipts and summaries.
- STEP may award a small business with an ICEP reimbursement of a lesser amount than requested in the application, based on strength of the application, the number of applicants, and the availability of funding.

A credit card or banking statement will not qualify on its own. Check payments must be accompanied by “Checks Paid” banking statement. Cash payments must be accompanied by a formal invoice on vendor’s letterhead, with the following information, at minimum: line item description of export promotional services provided, costs, payment received, date, and vendor’s wet signature.

If you elect not to participate in the event/activity after you have submitted an application, we ask that you notify California STEP as soon as possible so funds may be made available to other California small businesses. Not doing so in a timely manner may disqualify you from future participation in the ICEP program.

Note: If your application was not initially granted a reimbursement, you will be provided an opportunity to clarify your ICEP request for further review and consideration, at which time the review process may take an additional 21 days. Note: your ICEP application must still be approved prior to execution activity for reimbursement consideration.
